ON THE BALLOT FOR WOMEN.

Advocates From All Parts of the State Before the Committee.

Before the Committee.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 6.—Probably never in the history of legislation has there been such an outpouring of the advocates of any measure as granted the Assembly Chamber of late. The occasion was the hearing of the Constitutional Convention Committee on Suffrage to the advocate of woman's suffrage throughout the State outside of New-York City, the last hearing having been devoted to the suffragists from the metropolis.

The chamber, both within and without the halls, was crowded to suffocation with women and delagates, while the common "man suffrager" were also in full force.

Chairman Goodell of the Assembly committee, over which he presides, was in an unusually good humor this morning, and was a decided contrast to the Speaker, who, although he sat with the committee through the entire hearing, said very little during the debate.

Mrs. Cottin, chairman of the committee in charge of the women's suffrage bill, was in a most commendable temper, and did much to quiet the disorderly elements that have been present from the beginning of the hearing.

The committee, after some debate, adopted a resolution to the effect that the women's suffrage bill be referred to the Committee of the Whole House for further consideration.

Advocates of woman's suffrage were heard from various parts of the State, including the following:

Mrs. Cornelia C. Harry of Brooklyn was the first speaker. She stated that women were entitled to a voice in the selection of their representatives, and that if they were not allowed to vote they would be excluded from the counting of the ballots.

Mrs. M. F. Carpenter of the New York Women's Suffrage Association, showed the necessity of the bill by the condition of the district in which she resides. She said that the result of the last State election in Brooklyn was that the women's suffrage bill was defeated by a majority of only a few votes.

Mrs. M. F. Carpenter of the New York Women's Suffrage Association, showed the necessity of the bill by the condition of the district in which she resides. She said that the result of the last State election in Brooklyn was that the women's suffrage bill was defeated by a majority of only a few votes.

Mrs. M. F. Carpenter of the New York Women's Suffrage Association, showed the necessity of the bill by the condition of the district in which she resides. She said that the result of the last State election in Brooklyn was that the women's suffrage bill was defeated by a majority of only a few votes.

Mrs. M. F. Carpenter of the New York Women's Suffrage Association, showed the necessity of the bill by the condition of the district in which she resides. She said that the result of the last State election in Brooklyn was that the women's suffrage bill was defeated by a majority of only a few votes.

Mrs. M. F. Carpenter of the New York Women's Suffrage Association, showed the necessity of the bill by the condition of the district in which she resides. She said that the result of the last State election in Brooklyn was that the women's suffrage bill was defeated by a majority of only a few votes.

Mrs. M. F. Carpenter of the New York Women's Suffrage Association, showed the necessity of the bill by the condition of the district in which she resides. She said that the result of the last State election in Brooklyn was that the women's suffrage bill was defeated by a majority of only a few votes.

Mrs. M. F. Carpenter of the New York Women's Suffrage Association, showed the necessity of the bill by the condition of the district in which she resides. She said that the result of the last State election in Brooklyn was that the women's suffrage bill was defeated by a majority of only a few votes.

Mrs. M. F. Carpenter of the New York Women's Suffrage Association, showed the necessity of the bill by the condition of the district in which she resides. She said that the result of the last State election in Brooklyn was that the women's suffrage bill was defeated by a majority of only a few votes.

Mrs. M. F. Carpenter of the New York Women's Suffrage Association, showed the necessity of the bill by the condition of the district in which she resides. She said that the result of the last State election in Brooklyn was that the women's suffrage bill was defeated by a majority of only a few votes.